THAW ACQUITTED OF CONSPIRACY

Cleared of New York Charge of Conspiracy in Escaping From Matteawan.

[By Associated Press.]

New York, March 13.—Harry Thaw and the four others indicted with him on a charge of conspiracy, were all acquitted.

Thaw was immediately remanded to jail until Monday, when the State will try to have him committed to the New York asylum for the insane, while his attorneys will try to get the court to send him back to New Hampshire on the ground that he is sane.

Thaw Case History.

June 25, 1906.—Thaw shot and killed Stanford White at the Madison Square Roof Garden.

January 23, 1907.—Thaw placed on trial for murder.

March 20, 1907.—District Attorney Jerome halted the trial, to prove Thaw insane.

April 5, 1907.—Commission pronounced Thaw sane.

April 12, 1907.—Jury before which Thaw was tried disagreed and was discharged.

February 1, 1908.—Thaw acquitted at second trial on ground of insanity. Committed to the Matteawan Asylum for the Criminal Insane.

April 22, 1908.—Thaw applied to Justice Morchauser for his first writ of habeas corpus.

May 6, 1908.—Superintendent of Matteawan opposed Thaw's release.

May 25, 1908.—Justice Morchauser dismissed the writ, asserting Thaw's release would be dangerous to the public.

June 13, 1908.—Justice Morchauser denied Thaw's application to be transferred to Middletown State Hospital.

June 29, 1908.—Thaw deamned a jury trial to prove his sanity.

September 16, 1908.—Justice Mills denied application.

January 1, 1909.—Thaw appealed from Justice Mills' decision.

July 4, 1909.—The Appellate Division denied Thaw's appeal.

July 14, 1909.—Justice Mills heard Thaw's application for release on the ground that he was sane.

August 12, 1909.—Justice Mills dismissed the second writ.

August 26, 1914.—Court of Appeals sustained the Appellate Division decision that Justice Mills was justified in denying Thaw a jury trial.

December 20, 1909.—United States Supreme Court refused to review the action of the New York courts.

April 15, 1912.—Justice Stapleton refused third habeas corpus writ for Thaw.

July 27, 1912.—Justice Keough dismissed the third Thaw writ.

November 22, 1912.—J. N. Anhut accused of offering the superintendent of Matteawan $20,000 to aid in securing Thaw's release.

March 1, 1913.—Thaw got fourth habeas corpus writ in New York County. Withdrawn.

August 17, 1913.—Thaw escaped from Matteawan in fast motor car.

August 19, 1913.—Thaw arrested at Coaticook, Canada. Deported from Canada and arrested in New Hampshire.

October 24, 1913.—Indicted with four of the men who, it was alleged, aided his escape.

November 9, 1913.—Federal writ prevented Thaw's extradition from New Hampshire.

June 15, 1914.—Application for bail denied by United States Supreme Court, which refused Thaw permission to visit Pittsburg.

December 22, 1914.—United States Supreme Court ruled New Hampshire must surrender Thaw to New York on conspiracy charge.

March 8, 1915.—Thaw arraigned in the criminal court in New York City to stand trial on conspiracy charge.

Society

Friday Club With Mrs. O. P. Hall—

Mrs. O. P. Hall entertained the Friday Club yesterday afternoon in charming compliment to her visitor, Mrs. Janie Mullane of Houston. This was one of the most beautiful and artistically appointed hostesses of the springtime. The adornment of the home was extremely lovely, being fragrant with quantities of roses, violets and narcissus, the rooms presenting a beautiful scene which was enjoyed during the afternoon by the assemblage of guests. Forty-two was the diversion, four tables having been arranged for the pastime, and a series of interesting games were enjoyed. The score cards were quite out of the ordinary, being novelty paper caps, partners being selected by corresponding colors. For each game won a silver feather adorned the winner's cap.

The afternoon passed with a round of pleasure and social enjoyment, and the guests many times assured their genial hostess and her mother, Mrs. Norsworthy, of the most delightful time spent. A delicious course of marshmallow pudding, angel and nut cake was served with tea.

Miss Sarah Allen Entertained

Bachelor Girls' Club—

Assembling with Miss Sarah Allen on Wednesday afternoon, the Bachelor Girls' Club spent one of its usual delightful times of visit, and the gracious cordiality of the pleasant hostess was never more plainly shown, each guest receiving a hearty welcome. The spacious reception suite was decorated with quantities of ferns and potted plants arranged advantageously in every place available. The pleasant surroundings formed an ideal setting for the assemblage of the participants, who worked busily on dainty pieces of handwork and exchanged ideas of interest with much social converse. The serving of sandwiches and tea brought the club hours to a close.

Mission Society With

Miss Zimmerman—

On yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock the members of the Young Ladies' Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held a very interesting, pleasant and largely attended meeting. Miss Mabel Zimmerman was hostess and to her wise counsel and faithfulness is due much of the success which now crowns this worthy department of the church work. This lovely home wherein the appointments are so suitable for entertaining, was a bower of loveliness for the occasion, with the artistic grouping of vases and baskets of lovely hyacinths, violets and jonquils.

With the unbounded hospitality which is so noted a feature in this home, nothing was lacking short of a profitable and enjoyable time.

Mrs. F. H. Taylor, president of the auxiliary, called the meeting to order.

January 1, 1909.—Thaw appealed from Justice Mills' decision.

July 4, 1909.—The Appellate Division denied Thaw's appeal.

July 14, 1909.—Justice Mills heard Thaw's application for release on the ground that he was sane.

August 12, 1909.—Justice Mills dismissed the second writ.

August 26, 1914.—Court of Appeals sustained the Appellate Division decision that Justice Mills was justified in denying Thaw a jury trial.

December 20, 1909.—United States Supreme Court refused to review the action of the New York courts.

April 15, 1912.—Justice Stapleton refused third habeas corpus writ for Thaw.

July 27, 1912.—Justice Keough dismissed the third Thaw writ.

November 22, 1912.—J. N. Anhut accused of offering the superintendent of Matteawan $20,000 to aid in securing Thaw's release.

March 1, 1913.—Thaw got fourth habeas corpus writ in New York County. Withdrawn.

August 17, 1913.—Thaw escaped from Matteawan in fast motor car.

August 19, 1913.—Thaw arrested at Coaticook, Canada. Deported from Canada and arrested in New Hampshire.

October 24, 1913.—Indicted with four of the men who, it was alleged, aided his escape.

November 9, 1913.—Federal writ prevented Thaw's extradition from New Hampshire.

June 15, 1914.—Application for bail denied by United States Supreme Court, which refused Thaw permission to visit Pittsburg.

December 22, 1914.—United States Supreme Court ruled New Hampshire must surrender Thaw to New York on conspiracy charge.

March 8, 1915.—Thaw arraigned in the criminal court in New York City to stand trial on conspiracy charge.

After all business was over, a study on Bible questions was taken up, which always proves of interest. A social hour followed the program, and at the conclusion a salad course was served. Mrs. Zimmerman, whose presence was an added pleasure to the guests, helped materially in entertaining.

Mrs. W. C. Davis Hostess

to Embroidery Club—

Mrs. W. C. Davis, who knows so well how to provide for the pleasure of her guests, called the members of the Embroidery Club into an enjoyable session at the handsome home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Boatwright, on Tuesday afternoon. Although the elements were rather unfavorable without, the interior of the home was sweet with cordial hospitality, and the weather was forgotten in the enjoyment within. The drawing room, where the ladies were seated, reflected in every detail spring's freshness and beauty. Hyacinths, jonquils, roses and violets were effectively arranged in vases and bowls, placed on mantel, cabinets and piano, their colors blending harmoniously. Two hours were devoted to the beautiful work brought by the guests, for this congenial company of charming matrons devotes much time to the acquirement of latest stitches in embroidery and other fine needlework. A palatable and appetizing collation, consisting of chicken salad, crackers, olives, sandwiches, salted pecans and coffee with whipped cream followed by marshmallow pudding and macaroons.

The parlors of the First Baptist Church were a scene of much fun and merriment last evening when they were thrown open to the members of the B. Y. P. U. and their friends. The president of the union, Paul C. Porter, together with the other officers and the members of the social committee, gave each guest a cordial welcome. Charades contest and old fashion games were entered into with zest, while the vocal solos given by Mrs. Roy Danforth and Edgar Buchanan, with Miss Lois Reynolds at the piano were very much enjoyed by all present. Misses Ethel Hall, Mildred Newton, May Oliver Roberts and Belle Galner presided at the punch bowl and dispensed delicious fruit punch and sandwiches throughout the evening.

Personals—

Miss Anita Park and Miss Loula Batte will entertain the Bachelor Girls' Club on Wednesday afternoon at the home of the former.

Mrs. S. H. Dunlap will be hostess to the Embroidery Club next Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Janie Mullane of Houston is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Hall.

AS THE NEWS BREAKS

[By Associated Press.]

SHERMAN, Tex., March 13.—Conferences of the Laymen's Movement of the Evangelical Churches are to be held in Sherman tomorrow and Monday, to discuss, among other things, the feasibility of holding simultaneous revival services to create "an awakening" among church people and others. Among the speakers were expected to be Dr. John N. Mills of Chicago and Dr. C. S. Reid of Nashville, Tenn.

AUSTIN, Tex., March 13.—An appropriation of $25,000 has been made by the Legislature for the use of the Texas Railroad Commission in employment of counsel and rate experts in rate hearings of Texas railroads, now being held at Dallas. It is generally believed the railroads, in case the commission refuses to grant their application for an increase of about 15 per cent in freight rates, will take the matter to the Federal courts. This appropriation, it is expected, will enable the commission to be properly represented in any action taken. There is a clause in the bill providing the Governor shall have the power to approve of counsel selected by the commission, that is, the chief executive will have the say as to how this money shall be expended.

AUSTIN, Tex., March 13.—Notwithstanding prospects of an early adjournment of the present session of the Legislature, Senator Hall of Wharton County, has announced his intention of pushing a joint resolution for the division of Texas into three States—North Texas, with its capital at Palestine; South Texas, capital at Austin, and Jefferson, with seat of government at Abilene. He proposes to offer this resolution as a substitute for the Johnson (of Hall County) resolution, which would create the State of Jefferson. There is considerable doubt as to the adoption of either measure.

The Department of Agriculture has taken a census of the birds, which is probably as good a way of wasting money as any other.—Rochester Herald.

Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day.
